We were very excited to get Velour from Blue Unicorn LaManchas, and we are very pleased with the results she has turned in. Velour is incredibly long and tall, with tremendous depth to her barrel. She is tremendously sharp and angular showing excellent dairy character. Her mammary system is very capacious, with tremendous depth and width. Although 2010 was an off year for her (health issues). She is back healthy, bred, and we have hope for the future.

Although never shown, Ariana has continued to maintain her place in the herd. She is an excellent milker, and although mastitis has hurt her peak recently, she still maintains a very steady lactation curve. Ariana is a very deep bodied doe with lots of spring to her rib and width through out. Her width is carried into her mammary system that is very wide in the rear and wide and extended in the fore. She is very correct on her feet and legs, with good angle at the hock, and strong pasterns.
